

GETTING TO KNOW ALLAH

Through His Names and Attributes

This journal belongs to: _____

Assalam alaikum. In this book, we will learn about some of the names and attributes of Allah (SWT) that He has given Himself or described Himself with in the Quran. It is important that we learn about Allah because by learning about Him, we will grow to love Him.

This book is meant to be completed slowly. Take your time and really try to understand what each name means. Reflect on how that affects your life and make changes every day based on what you learn. Use the names of Allah in your prayers, in your du'aa, and teach it to others.

The language used is meant to be simple enough that young children can complete the exercises, but beneficial for everyone inshallah. If you are an adult, please do not stop learning about Allah when you finish this book as we have only presented some of the names and attributes here. Parents should help their children try to understand the concepts if their children struggle with some of the meanings.

This book is being written for the sake of Allah. Please contact me if you see any errors and I will hasten to fix those. You may redistribute this book freely as long as you do not charge for it.
